was "predictable and preventable" given the rapper's history.

More than a dozen lawsuits have been filed so far against Scott and several companies, including entertainment giant Live Nation, concert promoter ScoreMore, a nonprofit managing the Houston-owned venue. The complaints allege that organizers failed to take simple crowd-control steps, to staff properly and to act on early signs of trouble at the sold-out concert at NRG Park that attracted 50,000 fans.

"The way the concert was set up, planned, organized, and the way things were handled once there was a problem, it boggles the mind," lawyer Tony Buzbee said this week in announcing that he was suing on behalf of three dozen victims, including 21-year-old Axel Acosta, who died.

for the equally heinous crimes that Martinez Guzman committed in Douglas County," Jackson said in a statement Tuesday following the pleas to the murder and burglary charges in district court in Minden.

"Today was also about honoring and respecting the collective desires of all of the victims' families in bringing finality to these cases," he said.

Hicks said it was the "second step in a global resolution that will secure justice for the victims and finality for their loved ones."

Martinez Guzman is also expected to plead guilty to several property crimes in Carson City later this month, Jackson said.

In addition to four consecutive life terms with no possibility of parole, he faces a minimum of another 214 years in prison for the multiple burglary, larceny, weapons and possession of stolen property charges under the plea agreement outlined in court documents.

Washoe County District Judge Connie Steinheimer has scheduled sentencing for the Reno crimes for Feb. 28.

Jackson said sentencing is scheduled March 3 in Douglas County, where the families of Koontz and Renken "will finally have an opportunity to tell the court how the murders have impacted their lives."

Authorities said Martinez Guzman stole a .22-caliber handgun from the Davids' southwest Reno home on Jan. 4, 2019; shot and killed Koontz, 56, and Renken, 74, in separate attacks several days later; and returned to the Davids' house to rob and kill them Jan 15.

Gerald David, 81, and his 80-year-old wife were prominent in the Reno Rodeo Association and had employed Martinez Guzman as a landscaper the summer before.

Martinez Guzman was arrested in Carson City during a manhunt that had investigators track an Apple watch stolen from Koontz to Martinez Guzman's mother.

The case drew attention at the time from then-President Donald Trump, who said it showed the need to build a wall on the U.S.-Mexico border. Authorities said Martinez Guzman was in the country illegally but they didn't know how or when he arrived.

container yards, freeing up dock space and speeding the flow of goods to their final destinations.

The officials spoke on condition of anonymity to discuss the forthcoming plans, which come on the heels of the House backing the bipartisan infrastructure package late Friday. The package includes $17 billion to improve coastal and land-based ports that can help to tackle the challenges in the longer term.

Biden's team is moving straight ahead in promoting the possible benefits from the broader infrastructure package, though they've largely shied away from claiming that Americans could see clear and demonstrable changes to their lives before the 2022 midterm elections. The focus, instead, has been on how the spending on roads, bridges and broadband will help the U.S. economy compete against the rest of the world.

The president in remarks to Democratic supporters on Tuesday signaled that he will look to remind voters in the months ahead of the infrastructure win. He noted "the last president" promised to pursue legislation but failed to deliver.

"So it was left to us," Biden said at the virtual event hosted by the Democratic National Committee. "We got the job done."
